

Genes, Evolution, and Behaviour
PSYCH 3830
(Sept – Dec 2018)

Instructor: Tom Harrigan, Ph.D. (tharrigan@rrc.ca; t.harrigan@uwinnipeg.ca)

Time and Location: Tuesdays and Thursdays 1300 – 1415 h

Office and Office Hours: TBA; E-mail to make an appointment.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK:

Buss, D.M. (2015). Evolutionary Psychology (5th Ed): The New Science of the Mind. Toronto: Allyn & Bacon, Pearson Education Ltd.

CALENDER DESCRIPTION:

This course examines behaviour from the point of view of genetic inheritance and evolution. Emphasis is placed on the ways in which genetic analysis can help us to understand the interplay between the environment and genes in the determination of behaviour. Topics include genetic defects and chromosomal anomalies, classical ethology, population genetics, heritability estimation, and that aspect of population ethology known as sociobiology.

OVERVIEW:

This course will provide an introduction to the emerging field of evolutionary psychology. Throughout the term we will consider the following topics from an evolutionary perspective: mating strategies; sexual jealousy; cheater detection; pregnancy sickness; parental nurturance and negligence; spatial memory; landscape preferences; and aggression and violence. To date, evolutionary psychology has provided a new and insightful perspective to many traditional areas within psychology, notably, cognitive psychology, personality psychology, developmental psychology, and linguistics. The final section of the course addresses how evolutionary psychology can shed light on many phenomena traditionally associated with clinical psychology.

GRADING

Marks will be allocated as follows:

Mid-term Exam (Tentative: Oct 18, 2017)	35%
Final Exam (Tentatively, Dec 15, 2018)	45%
Assignment 1 (Multiple choice, due day of final exam)	20%

Assignment consists of 120 – 140 multiple choice questions designed to keep you moving through the textbook material in time with the lectures. Please note the assignment is to be done individually, working together with classmates is strictly prohibited. This assignment is due just before you write your final exam! Late assignments will be subject to a 25% penalty of the assignments value for each late day. Thus if you're 1-minute to 24-hours late and get 100% on the assignment your mark will be 15 / 20.

NOTE: These cutoffs are tentative, and subject to department vetting and can change in either direction.

Plagiarism and cheating represent serious academic misconduct. Please review the Regulations and Policies section of the Course Calendar.

Avoid Academic Misconduct: Students should be familiar with the Regulations and Policies section of the Course Calendar dealing with academic regulations and policies, including Senate appeals and academic misconduct (e.g. plagiarism, cheating). Please see the 'Avoiding Plagiarism' video tutorial: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UvFdxRU9a8g>

Avoid Copyright Violation: Course materials are owned by the instructors who develop them. Examples include materials such as course outlines, assignments, lecture notes, test questions, slides. Please do not upload them to filesharing sites, or in any other way share these materials with those outside the class without permission. This is a violation of copyright law and University policy. Students also need permission of the instructor/presenter before photographing or recording slides, presentation, lectures, and notes on the board.

Other Things of Interest

Students will be required to show photo identification (UofW Student Card) when writing tests and exams.

No extraneous material or devices are allowed during tests and exams.

Students must not have cell phones in their possession during tests and exams.

All submitted written work must be typed.

Class Cancellations: When it is necessary to cancel a class due to exceptional circumstances, instructors will make every effort to inform students via uwinnipeg email or the online course management system. The Departmental Assistant will also be informed so class cancellation forms can be posted outside the classroom.

No make-up classes will be scheduled.

Please be reminded that you have the responsibility to regularly check your uwinnipeg email to ensure timely receipt of correspondence from the university and/or your course instructor.

University Regulations & Additional Information

Withdrawal dates for the academic year can be found at:

<http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/index/services-withdrawal-schedules>

All students, faculty and staff have the right to participate, learn and work in an environment that is free of harassment and discrimination. The UW Respectful Working and Learning Environment Policy may be found at:
